To Get Every Dollar for Arkansas

By FRASER EDWARDS
(For Howard Hughes)

Washington, Aug. 15 — Arkansas representatives on the Senate Committee on Appropriations, led by Sen. John L. McClellan and Rep. W. F. Norrell, Monticello — are determined to have every dollar of the $22,125,000 for Arkansas interest projects voted by the Senate retained in the $22,125,000 flood control, rivers and harbors bill, or "hot water bill."

Both McClellan and Norrell got busy promptly with members of the Senate and House conferees to iron-out the differences of $12,615,000 added by the upper branch to the amount allowed by the House, back in June and before the Missouri-Kansas floods. That sizable difference is due in large measure to the supplemental estimates sent to Capitol Hill by the budget bureau at the instance of President Truman after the flood in his own home state. Still the total carried in the bill is more than $20,000,000 less than the budget estimates.

McClellan admitted he has the upper hand. The Senate conferees prepared to stand firm for the bill amounting to the branch of Congress. On the other hand, the House having voted the lower amount might be expected, under normal circumstances, to insist upon paring down the total of the Senate bill. And whatever funds were eliminated or shaved would have to come out of some other bill project.

Hot Water Projects

In this instance, however, President Truman has some yet projects in the bill. His supporters in Congress might be expected to put up a last-ditch fight to give Truman whatever he wants in the bill. If the projects with a presidential blessing were left intact, some other equally desirable and meritorious projects were subjected to the pruning knife.

Arkansas' Rep. Clarence Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, heads the conferees of the lower branch and the President's changed attitude on flood control is expected to carry considerable weight with Cannon. If nothing else does, Cannon's rank may prove easier to overcome than the Senate's.

Norrell pleaded in vain with the House conferees to provide $4,000,000 for bank stabilization, on which the Senate has a record. His request was rejected, because the House was already twice turned down the request. He also appeared in behalf of this vital project before the Senate subcommittee.

That a representative in the budget bureau was present at the Senate hearings and he was urged to back and have his agency reconsider its refusal to recommend the project. After the Missouri-Kansas flood, the presidential agency came on with a budget request for $4,000,000, and that amount was written into the bill. There is every reason to believe it will remain there.

Hardin Drain Stays In

The so-called Hardin Drain project likewise was not recommended by the budget bureau and Norrell was unable to make any headway with it in the House as a result. But the Senate has voted $25,000 to be matched by local funds in this program to alleviate flood danger in lowland areas.

Other Arkansas-interest projects in the Senate-approved measure, exclusive of the $1,000,000 for the Lower Mississippi program, which includes portions of the Arkansas, White, St. Francis and other tributary streams, are:

- Shannon reservoir, $14,000,000; Arkansas 4134, below Pine Bluff, $500,000; Blakeley Mountain reservoir, $5,700,000; St. Francis basin, $500,000; Tennessie-Bayou on Mazon, $1,000,000; Narrows reservoir, $200,000; Texarkana reservoir, $4,000,000 and Denison reservoir, $400,000.

McClellan's Plea Effective

One of the most compelling speeches in behalf of the Senate bill was made by McClellan, who admitted only an academic interest in flood control until he was elected to the House, where he served on the old flood control committee.

Indonesian Police Round Up Rebels

Jakarta, Indonesia, Aug. 16 — (UPI) — Police arrested 23 members of parliament, government officials and newspaper editors today in a series of rallies which well-informed sources said it was intended to smash a revolutionary plot.

A member of parliament said the government learned from confiscated documents that Communists and other extreme left wingers planned a coup tomorrow, the Indonesian independence day.

Sixteen members of parliament were arrested in their homes in the parliament building. Other arrested included two high ranking officials of the ministry of labor and five editors of Chinese language newspapers.

Police topped of the parliament buildings and the Communist party headquarters to prevent any sabotage of tomorrow's independence day celebration.

U. S. Officer Slain by Own Men

Washington, Aug. 16 — A cold-blooded "blow of spades" killing of an American cloak-and-dagger officer behind enemy lines in Italy seven years ago has been solved, the defense department said yesterday.

The department declared Maj. William V. Holahan, then 40, was killed by two fellow American servicemen with the aid of two Italians. All were attached to an office of strategic services (OSS) mission parachuted into enemy territory to get the low-down on Italian guerrilla bands.

One of the former U. S. servicemen denied any connection with the killing; the other withheld comment.

Named by the department as the principals in the case were: John J. Leardi, 34, a 23-year-old lieutenant, formerly of Pittsburgh and now employed in New York City. The department said in a formal notice captioned "Investigation of the death of Maj. William V. Holahan" that Leardi hatched the plot in a disagreement with Holahan over how much arms aid to give to Communist partisans.

Carl G. Loder, then a sergeant, from Rochester, N. Y. The department said Leardi "drew the line of spades" and thus set the assignment of shooting Holahan when Leardi decided poison given him earlier might not be effective.

At his home in Peekskill, N. Y., Leardi denied any part in the killing and said he assumed it may have been done by two Italians who, the department said, had told the entire story.

"The department of defense has gone way off base in assuming I'm involved," Leardi told a reporter. "I deny any connection with the killing."

"The way it happened is news to me. Now that these two men have admitted they were involved in the killing, I assume that part of the story is true. This is the first I have heard of it, however."

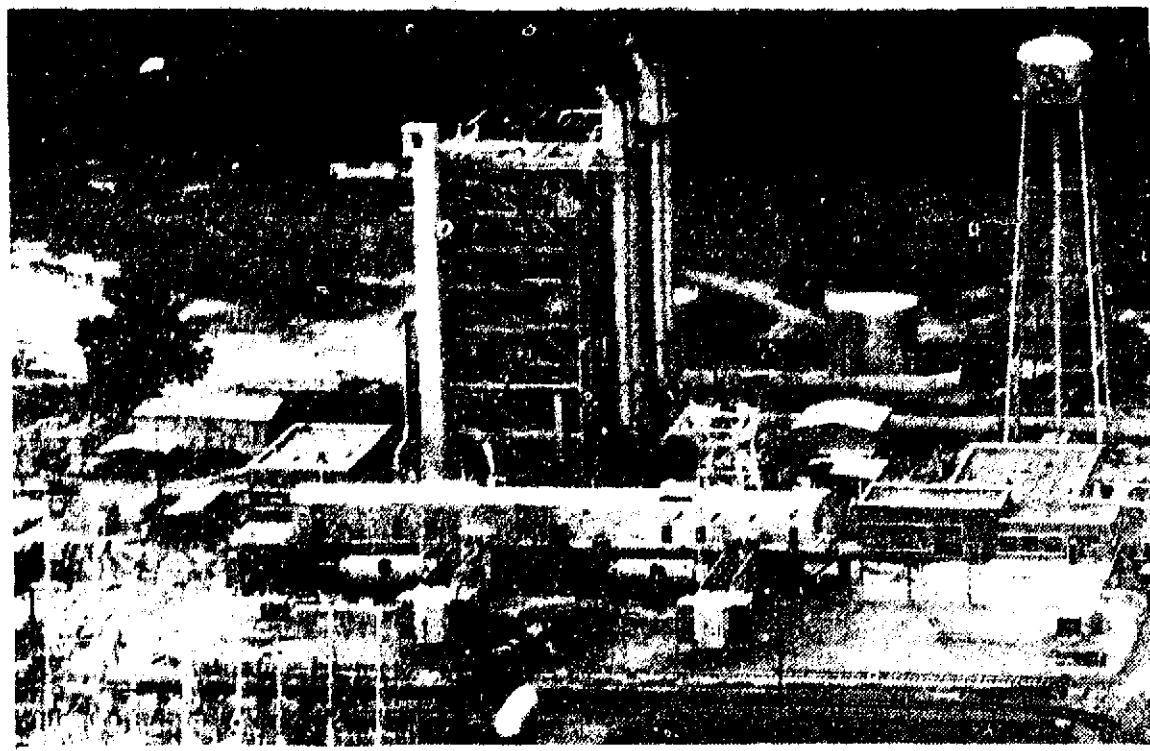

The department said that after the difference arising up between Leardi and Holahan, Leardi persuaded other members of the party that so long as arms were withheld from the Partisans there was danger they would turn on the party and kill them or betray them to the Germans.

As the story was pieced together from the two Italians, Giuseppe Minniti and Gaetano Tazzini, the department said, this is what happened:

The intensity of artificial lighting used for night baseball games varies from about five per cent to 20 per cent that of daylight.

This plant, capable of producing 140,000 kilowatts per hour, will be largest steam-electric generating station in Arkansas and is designed so it can be doubled in output. Using 20 million cubic feet of natural gas daily, it makes economic construction of huge gas pipeline that will serve all of Eastern Arkansas. The plant was named for AP&L President, C. H. Moses, who has been named the state's outstanding citizen.

Truman Will Investigate Army Football

Washington, Aug. 16 — (UPI) — President Truman said today he is still making an investigation of whether there is over emphasis on football at West Point.

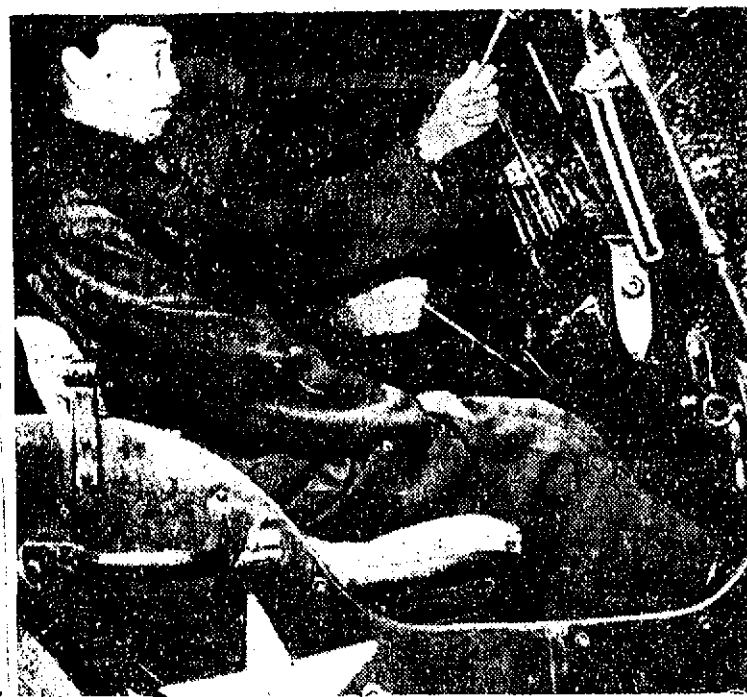

Mr. Truman told a news conference he is conducting the inquiry himself, but would have nothing to say until he has concluded it.

White House sources have said the inquiry covers athletic recruiting in big-time football at the naval academy at Annapolis as well.

Mr. Truman disclosed the probe last week after ninety West Point cadets had been tagged for omission because of cheating on examinations included many of the army's football squad.

White House officials had said Mr. Truman had no intention of looking into the cheating scandal.

The experiment in this particular test, Dr. Salughter said called for the use of a morphine, sedative drug, and cortisone, a new drug which is being used in treatment of arthritis and allied conditions. "Another drug was picked up instead of morphine," Dr. Salughter said. "It was this drug that had the toxic effect. The drug, cortisone, is not involved in the toxicity."

Other tests have been conducted with the proper sedative drugs has been carried on without ill effect," Dr. Salughter said in an interview. Several new drugs which have a sedative action have been discovered through such experiments, he added.

Mrs. Fred Christopherson, Clifford's brother-in-law, said that she was told by physicians that a type of sedative was being tested and that Clifford and Mrs. Pearson received an overdose.

Mrs. Pearson collapsed in the medical school laboratory about 2 p. m. yesterday. She failed to regain consciousness. Clifford also collapsed at the university.

University officials stressed that both Clifford and Mrs. Pearson had volunteered for the experiments and that they were employees of the state and not students.

DOROTHY DIX

Who Is Responsible?

Dear Miss Dix: Just before my son went into service in World War II he married a young widow with one child. I had known the girl all her life and was pleased with the marriage. We had her and the baby with us while my son was away and did everything we could for them, clothing the baby, etc. My daughter-in-law was the dearest thing to me and I was very happy with her.

My son was away 30 months and just before he returned, her feelings towards us seemed to change. She seemed to go out of her way to hurt me. My son came home, they went into their own home in a different city and she would not let me visit him. He has not been home now in five years. When his wife isn't home he calls me, and we pay the bill. I am ill, and have begged her to let us be at peace, but she just says she has what she wants and doesn't need me. My friends feel my son has no backbone.

Answer: There are two basic issues in a mother and daughter-in-law relationship that cause most of the in-law troubles. One is the clinging mother who comes between son and his wife, and the other is the small-minded girl who feels that having acquired a man, no one, not even his mother, is going to have the least share in him. Both types are fortunately rare, but when they rear their ugly head the unhappiness wrought is intolerable.

He Should Be Firm
In either case, one wonders who is most to blame—the woman or the man. Surely any son should have enough spunk to insist on the right to have occasional visits with his mother, and if he is half a man, he will see that his wife shows at least an outward respect for her mother-in-law.

Realizing how much you love your boy, no matter how badly he has treated you, I hesitate to criticize him, but he certainly is the spineless wonder of the world. Since he has persisted in his heartless attitude for five years, I doubt if any metamorphosis of character will improve his weak will, but prayer has worked miracles before and it might accomplish something for you.

Your daughter-in-law's unspeakable ingratitude defies belief, and she will have to see her own children grow up to realize how mistaken she has been. Her home must be a bleak and cheerless place to be run by one so heartless. With the wisdom that sometimes comes with years, she may be enlightened. I hope so.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 17 and have a boy friend who is stationed at an army camp. This summer my girl friend and I would like to spend our vacation there and would stay in the guest house or a hotel. My mother says this wouldn't be proper unless we had a chaperone. Please may I have your opinion?

ALICE B.
Answer: Your mother is quite right. Though you and your girl friend would undoubtedly conduct yourselves in a ladylike and decorous manner, the circumstances could easily lead to malicious gossip.

Certain conventions have been established as a code of living by which we may all guide our lives in an orderly and proper fashion. Private Power

Little Rock, Aug. 16 — (AP) — The Arkansas Farmers' union, in the closing session of its annual convention here, had a harsh word for private power companies.

In a resolution adopted unanimously, the group yesterday condemned to obstructionist tactics "of private utilities" to prevent expansion of generating facilities in Arkansas.

The resolution accused private electrical firms of failing to provide enough power to allow the throwing away whatever chance you have to salvage your marriage. Tell him to stop being intimidated by this other woman's threats. She'd probably never carry them out after all she has her own reputation to think of—and if she does, standing together you can weather whatever criticism she revokes.

Merrins Is Kid to Beat in Tourney

Durham, N. C., Aug. 16 — Eddie Merrins is expected to swing a big drive and a big putter but he is still the boy to beat in the Junior Chamber of Commerce's National Junior Golf tournament.

Why? Because yesterday in the second round of match play, Merrins defeated John J. Jones, swinging a 100-yard drive and a 100-yard putt to win.

For 10 holes, Jones, DePaul of Belleville, Ill., carried the defending champion in the 1st match of the 1st round. But he couldn't keep up with Eddie's longer drive and better putting.

On the 20th hole, Merrins took a 100-yard drive and a 100-yard putt to win.

He then drove a 100-yard drive and a 100-yard putt to win.

Chicago Jail to Get Full Investigation

Chicago, Aug. 16 — All passages in the big Cook county jail were investigated today.

More than 1,000 policemen searched for an armed fugitive who killed a guard and escaped from the jail.

"Shoot to kill" orders are out for Harry Williams, 29, aka, two-inch Negro who bent twice.

Guard Arthur Turley to 14th and sealed the wall to freedom last night. They set up a block.

One guard already has been arrested and conducted a door-to-door search for Williams was reported to have climbed through a window into a home, showed a pistol and demanded money.

Williams said no search was made.

Not to Send Out Materials Used for War

By The Associated Press
Shawcross said Britain had joined the U. S. and other countries in handling exports which are important principally for war production and things which nobody advanced technical knowledge that would be useful in war.

He said 250 items were thus banned from shipment to the Communist nations and that Britain could not agree with the U. S. on the "strategic" value of some materials including rubber.

Britain he said, will continue shipping limited amounts of rubber to Russia in exchange for timber, but the ban on rubber exports to Communist China still holds.

Shawcross said Britain must ex-

Fulbright to Handle RFC Probe Report

Washington, Aug. 15 — Fulbright (D-ARK) who headed a subcommittee which held extensive hearings on loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in a preliminary report last week, the subcommittee accused the RFC directors of yielding to influence — some of it from White House staff members — in making loans.

Fulbright was reported, however, to have taken the position that the final report should deal chiefly with legislative recommendations rather than firing new criticisms.

Republican Senators Capehart (Ind.) and Bricker (Ohio) preferred the other report.

One report was written by Senators who dug or months into RFC lending decided today to send the senate two reports on the loans — one written by a Democrat and one by a Republican.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said the senate banking committee voted 8 to 5, on strictly party lines, simply to transmit both documents to the senate. He said the committee did not endorse either.

Two reports are to be delivered to the Senate Monday. The banking committee ordered that they be kept secret in the meantime.

More Cadets to Leave Today

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 16 — The exodus of military academy honor code violators was expected to continue today with almost half of the 80 accused cadets already back in civilian clothes. A white gloved sentry waved 11 ousted youths past the south gate yesterday bringing to 4 the total number of ousters for cheating at examinations.

Parents and friends waited for some of the ousting youths, but their former classmates in the cadet corps gave them scant attention.

Farmers Told to Place Cotton in U. S. Loan

West Memphis, Aug. 16 — (AP) — The president of the American Farm Bureau federation has advised Arkansas cotton farmers to put their crop in the federal loan program.

Allan B. Kline told the Crittenden County Farm Bureau federation here last night that:

"X x x I were an Arkansas farmer, I would put my cotton in the loan because the domestic demand is good and because the foreign market is good. If the market price increases above the government support level of 30 and 40-100 cents a pound before the deadline for redemption, you can withdraw your cotton and sell it at the higher market price."

Kline's statement was obvious approval of a plan to prevent a wide-open break in the market, devised last week by producers, buyers and consumers meeting in New Orleans.

"These experts decided to advise farmers to put their cotton in the loan program and keep it there long enough to feed it to the market at a rate which would not cause prices to break."

Kline said that farmers are not getting rich off their farm products as some people think.

"While agriculture's net income in 1947 was just under $17.8 billion, in 1950 net agricultural income was just under $13 billion. This was in spite of the 'serious' rise in farm prices that took place in the last half of 1950, which many are decrying and without which many farmers would be in difficult straits indeed."

Defeated Candidate Succumbs

Russellville, Aug. 16 — (AP) — An unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Russellville died of a heart attack here yesterday.

He was John F. Hankey, 56, veteran alderman who was defeated Tuesday by C. R. Russell Horne.

Bullet Wound Fatal to Cuban

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 16 — (AP) — Sen. Eduardo R. Chibas, 42, died early today of wounds suffered when he shot himself Aug. 5 in a spectacular move to protest the regime of President Carlos Prío Socarras.

Authorities gave the cause of death as internal hemorrhage.

Chibas turned a pistol on himself after concluding a fiery radio broadcast denouncing the Prío government. The same bullet struck and slightly wounded a member of the studio audience.

"I gave the people of Cuba one alarm. They did not respond. Now I am giving them another alarm," Chibas said.

"In dying for my party, for the people of Cuba now the orthodox party should unite men: that ever to defeat this terrible government," he said before lapsing into unconsciousness.

An unsuccessful candidate for the presidency in 1948, he founded the Orthodox party to combat President Prío in 1952.

IT'S IN THE BAG, LUCKILY—Only the fact that his wide leather carrying case, loaded with placholders, was hanging in front of his body saved Photographer Howard Wagner, of Cheyenne, Wyo., from being badly gored when this enraged Brahma bull charged him. Wagner was photographing Cheyenne's famous "Frontier Days" rodeo. The bull charged a group of photographers and hit Wagner full-on but his hooking horn hit the leather case. One of his hoofs can be seen between the lensman's feet. This spectacular action photo was taken by a Union Pacific Railroad cameraman who fled after snapping his shutter.

berl described by the committee as a dominating figure in Tammany hall politics in New York. Sherman, long-sought witness in the crime committee hearings, had been named by the committee as a key link in its inquiry into O'Dwyer's election and regime in New York.

O'Dwyer got considerable attention in a committee report issued last May 1. It said his moves "often seemed to result favorably for men suspected of being high up in rackets."

The former mayor testified before the committee last spring that he had one meeting with Sherman. He said it was at the gambler's apartment and was arranged by Sherman.

Sherman told the senators today that this 1942 meeting was asked to leave New York.

It has been estimated that if the rest of the world were to become industrialized on the scale of the United States, world requirements for minerals would be multiplied seven times.

Harriman to Take Another Try at Crisis

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 16 — (AP) — British and Iranian negotiators have scheduled informal talks today at which W. Averell Harriman is expected to make a last ditch effort to solve Iran's explosive oil crisis.

It is the first time since he President Truman's diplomatic trouble shooter has stopped directly into the negotiations.

Observers feel that results from the informal talks — set for today and tomorrow — will determine whether there is any chance of reaching a settlement at a scheduled full-dress conference Saturday.

Today's talks were set up at a dinner party Harriman gave for the delegates last night after Iran had rejected Britain's latest offer for 50-50 profit sharing.

Peter Ramsbottom, a member of the British delegation, said Harriman "explained the necessity of getting around a table to solve the situation in a very friendly and important manner."

Although the two are still far apart, observers feel the fact that talks are continuing indicates both sides want to reach a workable agreement.

Informed sources said the British offer — which Iran labelled "unacceptable" — was largely drafted by Harriman himself. Iran's deputy premier Hossein Fattomi told reporters the British plan had these points:

1. All assets of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company in Iran would be turned over to the national Iranian oil company and due compensation would be paid.

2. AIOC would set up a purchasing organization under a 25-year contract to buy Iran's oil and refine products and distribute them throughout the world.

3. Iran would give the purchasing organization priority in oil purchases.

4. The purchasing organization should have firm guarantees of deliveries to meet customer needs. To insure this a managing organization to carry on producing and refining operations would be set up.

5. The National Iranian oil company would sell oil to the purchasing organization at reduced rates and split the profits 50-50.

6. A detailed agreement on sales to the purchasing organization would be worked out later, but immediate arrangements would be made to resume oil operations.

Lincoln, Aug. 16 — (AP) — Some 250 men searched a mountainous area near here for nearly four hours last night for a missing 18-month-old boy.

The child was found less than half a mile from his farm house in the Sugar hill community.

Tiny Gene Moore wandered away from home sometime late yesterday. He was missing about 7:30 p. m. and a posse of 75 volunteer Lincoln firemen began a search.

They were joined by searchers from Fayetteville and Pearle Grove, and had hunted until shortly after 11 p. m. when the boy was found by his father, Sidney Moore.

Gene was caught between two rocks, but he was not hurt.

The home of the Moore's is about seven miles south of here in an isolated, hilly section of northwest Arkansas. Lincoln is 20 miles west of Fayetteville in Washington county.

South Korean Army in Training

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters Korea, Aug. 16 — (AP) — South Korea's expanding army next week will begin intensive re-training under American officers in one of the most unusual programs ever attempted during a war.

They will be brought a few miles out of the front lines for about eight weeks of basic training in military tactics.

One division will be pulled out at a time, and none will leave its general battle sector.

If the Korean cease-fire talks should collapse and the Communists hurl another offensive at the United Nations, the ROK (Republic of Korea) division could be moved right back into the line.

KMAC — the American Korean military advisory group — has been reorganized and expanded during the past few months to handle the program. Most of the instructors have been serving with ROK divisions since the war began.

Teachers Really Paid in N. Y.

New York, Aug. 16 — (AP) — School days for New York's high school students will not be all reading, riting, and rithmetic this fall.

The granting of pay raises to teachers, providing a $6,500-a-year maximum salary, has ended an 18-month teacher's "strike" ricular activities.

Old maximum salaries ranged from $5,875 in junior high and elementary schools to $6,000 in high schools.

House Plan on Housing Up to the Senate

Washington, Aug. 16 — (AP) — The fate of a house-voiced plan to relax down payment and pay-off terms on low and medium priced housing rested today with a senate-house conference committee.

The committee will adjust differences in two versions of the administration's $1,700,000,000 defense housing bill, sharply amended in the house before voice passage last night.

Approval came after administration forces rallied and reversed tentative okay of two Republican it is designed to produce houses and apartments in critical defense areas, where populations have shot up because of the pre-war program.

Private enterprise is given the first chance to do the job. The government's mortgage insuring authority is increased $1,500,000,000 in both the house and senate bills. The President could relax regulation "x" credit restrictions on housing in the critical areas to the extent he deemed necessary. The government would have limited authority to build the needed housing itself, but could not do so without giving private builders 90 days notice of the type and quantity of dwellings needed, and announcing the availability of mortgage insurance.

Two key Republican amendments which were tentatively adopted by standing votes were rejected on formal rollcalls where members are recorded by name.

On this, sponsored by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), top Republican on the banking committee which handled the bill, would have cut off the program next June 30 instead of June 30, 1953 as the administration wished. Wolcott's move lost by a vote of 188 to 194.

The other overturn was an amendment by Rep. Cole (R-Kan.) which would have deleted a section of the bill providing a $10,000,000 revolving fund for acquiring housing sites around defense and military installations in isolated areas. Once tentatively adopted, the Cole amendment was thrown out on a rollcall, 199 to 175.

Wolcott succeeded in knocking $65,000,000 off the total in the bill as approved by the banking committee. Amendments by him held down the fund for housing to be built by the government to $50,000,000 instead of $75,000,000, and for the construction and operation of community facilities and services (such as waterworks and sewage systems) to $300,000,000 rather than $100,000,000. The senate had approved the smaller figures.

The bill also contains $15,000,000 for loans to spur the production and distribution of prefabricated housing.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), floor manager of the bill, was unable to block adoption of an amendment relaxing credit restrictions generally on low and moderate priced housing.

Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will represent his

Puerto Rico Scene of New Hurricane

Miami Fla., Aug. 16 — (UP) — Navy hurricane hunter officers reported to the weather bureau today that they had "discovered" a new "eye" in the tropical storm 130 miles south of Puerto Rico with winds raging at 80 miles an hour.

The weather bureau released the information an hour in advance of the next scheduled advisory. The Miami weather bureau said they had received three radio reports from reconnaissance planes which are still searching the storm area to get a full report.

The storm first developed near Martinique in the Leeward islands early yesterday and once packed winds up to 100 miles per hour. Last night the storm had degenerated into a tropical storm. Navy planes reported this morning that the new eye was found 130 miles south of the western portion of the island of Puerto Rico. No direction of movement was given.

Yoshida Favors U. S. Troops in Japan

Tokyo, Aug. 16 — (AP) — Russian attendance at the Japanese peace conference in San Francisco was carefully avoided today in a speech before the diet by Premier Shigeru Yoshida.

But the 72-year-old leader of this nation of 82,000,000 people declared that "stationing American troops in Japan" is necessary to preserve the country's "security and defense."

He said he would sign a unilateral treaty with the U. S. providing for the defense of Japan once its occupation ends.

Yoshida, five-foot-one-inch and a diplomat of the old school right down to the cutaway coat, striped trousers and pince Nez glasses, pointed his finger at the house of representatives and said:

"Some may feel that the treaty's territorial and economic clauses are in some cases burdensome and painful. However, I do not hesitate to say that the draft treaty, as compared with peace treaties of the past is just, lenient and without parallel in history."

Yoshida reviewed the events that had led to writing the treaty and praised American statesman John Foster Dulles for his "untiring efforts to coordinate the views of the Allies."

This was the premier's formal country at the Japanese treaty conference in San Francisco which opens Sept. 4.

BOTTLE HOUSE FOR SERVICEMEN—The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee pointed to this house when it demanded that the Defense Department protect servicemen from being "shamelessly victimized by rent gougers." A Camp Breckinridge, Ky., corporal and his family of three pay $25 a month for this "home." The front is built of mortar and whitewashed whisky bottles, while the rear is constructed of several hundred empty beer cans.

LEAVE ACADEMY—Loading their possessions in trunk of car at West Point, these three Army football team members prepare to leave the Academy and return to civilian life. Left-to-right: Bob Orders, Huntington, W. Va.; John McNolakis, Kearney, N. J.; and Phil Shockey, of Pittsburgh were among the 35 cadets involved in a cribbing scandal.

presentation of the treaty to the representatives. He is scheduled to leave Aug. 30 by chartered plane for San Francisco. The conference will open Sept. 4.

The unilateral treaty with the United States will be signed in either San Francisco or Washington as soon as the treaty signing takes place.

Russia, who has been opposed to the treaty heretofore, announced this week she would attend the San Francisco conference.

The treaty, Yoshida said, "presupposes all of the Allied powers in a state of war with Japan will sign it. Those which do not sign it are pre-supposed to conclude with Japan a bilateral treaty with similar content."

The Japanese war ended six years ago yesterday.

Peace Is Important Also But the Soldier in Korea Would Like Little More Leg Art

BY HAL BOYLE
Pensively, John — (AP) — Peace is important to the men in Korea. But they are also worried about what is happening to the legs of American girls.

Is a new cloth curtain descending over the main stems back home they adore.

This query is raised in a letter from Lieut. Tom Hamrick, writer from near that old port in Korea. He is feeling over reports that the French designer Christian Dior, creator of the "new look," has again decried that women's skirts should go lower.

(Editor's Note: Why doesn't Dior design circus tents if he hates legs?)

(Boyle's Note: Look, don't argue with me. We all agree. But let's let Hamrick say it. He's over there.)

I still say if 50,000,000 frenchmen can't be wrong — well, one can be.

(Boyle's Note: How do you like them — slender like a pipe-cleaner or curvy like a fat rainbow?)

(Editor's Note: Oh, I just like them. I'm a man of principle. Give it back to Hamrick. What's he say?)

Well, Hamrick's from Charleston, S. C., where "legs are more — much more — beautiful than moonlight over magnolias." He says: "Speaking for a lot of guys sitting around in a lot of holes, I'd like to say Christian Dior is about as far off base as an alligator in a canary cage."

"He may not realize it, but if Dior gets his way with women's fashions he's going to be as popular as Kim Il Sung (the North Korean dictator) when the lads come tearing off that ship at over with their eyes bulging like Eddie Cantor's. After Korea they want to see only two things. Grandma used to say it was vulgar to call them legs."

"Demanding that women should lower their skirts and cover up two of their four finest possessions is — let me scream like Patrick Henry — nothing short of treason."

(Editor's note: Excuse me for interrupting. But where does he get that figure four?)

(Boyle's Note: It's simple-two legs, two elbows. All lieutenants are crazy about elbows.)

(Editor's Note: How about their brains?)

(Boyle's Note: He's talking about women.)

(Editor's Note: Excuse me. The third race just came in. I was thinking of horses.)

Anyway, Lieut. Hamrick says the guys in Korea are so steamed up they will catalogue Dior along with the "Arch-rogues of all time" if his "cover them calves" edict comes to pass.

Back there in the old country (as you know GI's refer to the home of the installment plan) the gent must have become over-posed to milady's snazzy underpinning. If he could arrange to come to Korea, he would not only change his mind but come darning close to losing it altogether.

"Over here the women do things in perfect reverse of America. In perfect reverse of America, they cover their legs but let the feminine areas north of the navel get all the sunshine and fresh air they can absorb."

"The ladies wear something the way of baggy pants which reminds you very much of the old golf knicker daddies used to wear. Over here womanhood pines along dusty roads in rubber shoes which give her all the sex appeal of a dead horse."

"For months the rest of the guys and I have been dreaming day and night about that freedom — the one which entitles you to stand on street corners and watch women's legs go by."

"Viva la legs!"

Don't worry, lieutenant, the day you look for here are still visible. Dig isn't covering them up. It is calling a lot of girls to detain factory coveralls again. But the factory coveralls are not after work-

Condemned Negro Rapist Escapes

Chicago, Aug. 15 — (AP) — A rapist and slayer awaiting electrocution bent a guard to death and escaped over the wall of the Cook county jail last night.

Police ordered to "shoot to kill" were combing the city today for the fugitive, Harry Williams, 20-year-old, six foot, two inch Negro who has been sentenced to die on Sept. 14 for murder. He is armed with the riot gun of the guard he killed.

Jail Warden Philip Scanlan and Sheriff John E. Babb issued the "shoot to kill" order. Babb personally offered a $1,000 reward for Williams' capture — dead or alive.

A short time after he escaped, Williams attempted to noid up a motorist about a mile from the jail, which is at 26th St., and have returned to their home in Waldron after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hooks.

Pfc. Billie Mae Gann left Sunday night for New Brunswick, N. J. from where he will sail for Europe. He is assigned to the Artillery Survey Division of the Supreme Armed Forces.

Jimmy Greenon has returned to his home in Little Rock after a visit with his cousin Martin Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Scott and daughters of Little Rock were the weekend guests of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan of Magnolia visited Mrs. Gil Buchanan over the weekend.

Mrs. C. A. Archer Jr. and children Sarah Jane and Charles have returned to their home in Conway after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Denton Robinson of Texarkana were the guests Sunday of Mrs. Mattie Robinson.

McCarthy in Reply to Truman

Washington, Aug. 15 — (AP) — President Truman's blast at "hate-mongers" brought a challenge from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today for a 1952 political showdown on his Communist in government charges.

Mr. Truman dedicated the new Washington headquarters of the American Legion last night with a punch-packed attack on those he said "are trying to create fear and suspicion among us by the use of slander, unproved accusations and just plain lies."

Senator Benton (D-Conn.) promptly nominated McCarthy as the object of the attack. Benton has proposed that the senate formally consider ousting the Wisconsin senator.

McCarthy, accepting the designation of the President, he said: "If Truman wants to make the fight against communism — which chance to choose between Americanism or a combination of Trumanism and communism."

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the president told him in advance he would make a "rip-himself to the ground. He sneaked to the guard tower and apparently surprised Turkey. Again using the rope, made of braided sheets, Williams let himself down the 20 foot wall from the outside of the tower.

Guard William Trezie found Turkey a few minutes later. He fired a warning shot into the air. Jittery guards followed suit and began firing at the shadow in the yard. sporadic shooting continued for nearly an hour.

Armed with machine guns and tear gas, police surrounded the jail.

Edwin T. Breen, first assistant state's attorney, began questioning guards in his office. He said he was attempting to learn whether a conspiracy was involved in the break.

OBJECT OF SEARCH—Police are conducting a cross-country search for Mrs. Esther Ruth Gargas, above, 18-year-old bride of an Air Force sergeant, who disappeared from their Pittsburgh, Pa., home while the soldier was on temporary duty in New York. Mrs. Gargas' landlady said the young wife left home with a "strange man who had tattooed arms," saying they "might go to Virginia."

shorting" speech. In his speech, Mr. Truman assailed people he said claim to be against communism but are "chipping away at our basic freedoms just as insidiously and far more effectively than the Communists have ever been able to do."

Declaring that these people, whom he did not name, have attacked the basic principles of fair play, Mr. Truman said:

"They are filling the air with the most irresponsible kinds of accusations against other people. They are trying to get us to believe that our government is riddled with communism and corruption — when the fact is that we have the finest and most loyal body of civil servants in the world."

"Those slander-mongers are trying to get us so hysterical that no one will stand up to them for fear of being called a communist."

Fair Enough

New York, Aug. 15 — The transport workers' union, one of the most dangerous mob-forces in the country, has "organized" an unknown number of the policemen of the city of New York. This union demands absolute obedience of its members, including policemen, to take quill, a faker who for a long time promoted a myth that he had been shot by the British black and ins white soldiering in the British Republican Army.

He did this because he speaks with a brogue as though he had a mouthful of mush and wanted to ingratiate himself with a large element of New York subway, surface and elevated transportation workers who were either natives of Ireland or the sons of Irish immigrants.

The Dies committee later made him admit under oath that he sprained his hip as a youth. Another witness testified that Quill told him his hip was dislocated at birth. The injury caused him to limp and gave him an excuse to carry a blackthorn stick suitable for maiming or killing law-abiding American citizens in union riots.

New York policemen have a number of grievances, but they are themselves in part to blame for their financial problem because they insist on preserving a legal right to retire after 20 years' service. Thus, men in the prime of life can quit the force on guaranteed social security far above the average available to most other citizens and take other jobs on full pay to supplement their pensions. Such a pension system naturally is expensive and now, in response to the organized howling of professional agitators, the municipality is increasing its share of the pension fund contributions to 75 per cent and reducing the cops' share from 50 to 2 per cent.

Meanwhile, for a number of reasons, discipline has deteriorated to the extent that, for the first time since he modern force was organized, policemen in uniform, especially but not exclusively those riding in patrol vehicles, openly smoke cigarettes on duty. If soldiers on sentry duty were to smoke openly and defiantly, for this smoking by cops also is a defiance of regulations, that significance would be comparable.

Quill operated in close cooperation with the Communists during as a possible Republican presidential candidate next year, told a reporter he regards Mr. Truman as the "hysterical" one. "He might point out specifically something that has been said about him that isn't true," Taft suggested.

Mr. Truman told the Legion audience that it was "an old Communist trick in reverse" to scare people into keeping silent about their rights, and he added: "Yet this is exactly what the scare-mongers and hate-mongers are trying to bring about. Character assassination in their stock in trade. Quill by association is their motto."

"They have created such a wave of fear and uncertainty that their attacks upon our liberties go almost unchallenged. Many people are growing frightened — and frightened people don't protest."

Humphrey told a reporter he thinks the President "said something that needed to be said." He said he is "confident the President will make this an issue in next year's campaign."

the war and ought to the end to prevent the deportation of Desiderio Hammer, alias John Sano, one of his subordinates, a Romanian Communist, who was accused of coming here for the express purpose of promoting Communist revolution among American workers.

Santo finally left of his own accord but meanwhile Philip Murray, the sacellimonious old hypocrite who pretends to oppose Communists in the union racket and officially approved Quill's endorsement of Santo. It will be recalled that for a long period the general counsel of the CIO was Murray's presidency was Leon Pressman, one of the Frankfurter Harvard alumni in the new deal, who finally had to confess that he had been a Communist.

During the war, the Associated Press carried the following item under a New York date-line: "The Greater New York CIO council tonight elected Michael J. Quill, head of the transport workers' union, as president and voted to establish what was termed a 'standing army' to be on call for picketing and mass demonstrations. The action taken to set up a 'reserve army' was approved as part of a recommendation by the council's executive board, Saul Mills, re-elected executive secretary, told the delegates to the conclusion that a standing army of several thousand CIO members in New York, composed of a given number of people designated by each local union, should be on hand to respond to any call for picketing or other activity."

This council, under Mike Quill, who now would become supreme commander of the police force of the city of New York, at the same meeting decided to work for its political ends through the American Labor Party which was and remains notorious as a transparent front for the Communist treachery.

The Saul Mills referred to, who announced that the CIO was organizing a "standing army" which subsequently vanished from New York and reappeared in Shanghai as representative of the Communist International among the directors of that military power which American soldiers, including some from New York, are fighting in Korea. Quill would seem to have no excuse for not knowing all about Hammer, alias Santo, and Mills.

The threat to organized lawful government and public security contained in this routine item about the formation of the standing army of the CIO to take to the streets for "other activity" more violent than picketing did not cause serious public alarm. For at the time, was a political poster of Vito Marcantonio, the Italian son-of-the-Quill organization, and he made no open move to rebuke the challenge.

After the war there was a "house-cleaning" and the CIO now professing to be patriotic and hostile to the organized labor of the Communist conspiracy threw out a number of unions which had been notorious Communist agencies. Quill and Joe Curran, the president of the CIO sailors' union, professed to be anti-communist although both had been intimate with the Communists for years and had cooperated with them until this sudden strategic maneuver, which still may come to have been a joint to throw the public off guard.

The CIO council which formed the "standing army" for striking was dissolved and a new one was formed under the same advocates of direct action. This is the thoroughly which New York policemen are now joining, although what numbers the public does not know. George Monaghan, the new police commissioner, has forbidden the cops to give to any labor union authority to represent them in policeman.

Wife, Sons Share Hearst's Fortune

San Francisco, Aug. 15 — (AP) — William Randolph Hearst came here today to the city where he began building a newspaper dynasty that was to become known throughout the world.

His body, accompanied by four of his five sons, was flown to San Francisco from Beverly Hills, where he died yesterday after a long illness.

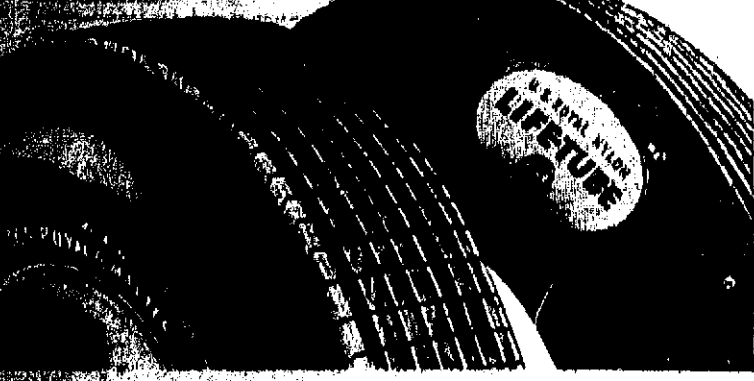

Funeral arrangements were being made for the funeral in New York City. Hearst will take place at the funeral home of the Hearst family, where the publisher's father, W. R. Hearst, George Hearst, and his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, were buried.

Hearst's 57-page typewritten will, which has been filed for probate in Los Angeles, left his widow, Mrs. Millicent B. Hearst, $1,000,000 in cash and the residue of his estate to her. It also left $1,000,000 to each of his five sons, and the residue of his estate to his daughter, Mrs. Marion Merrell Lytle.

It was from this start that he built a newspaper chain that at its peak represented a $200,000,000 investment.

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was organized in 1896 and incorporated in New York state.

The EMERALD CRESTED HOPOE

by Gordon MacCraigh

MORE wearily than just the heat warranted, Alan Barton and Lucy Villiers walked all the way to the hotel. Nobody followed them. Nobody molested them.

"Look," Alan said. "Add it up. Peter Vrooma guessed we had a lead on the temple. So he bribed the young priests—the ones with the money—to watch. When our man found the hiding place of the emerald crested hoopoe they twisted it out of him and planned him to the wall and they left with blank faces and say it was some dragon god's penalty for snooping. The police will never find out any more than they did about any of the other killings on this same trail. If they do, it'll be too late. Vrooma knew and he'll snatch it whenever Uncle Ho is ready."

"They did not have to tell George Berek," the four-sheet French newspaper had said follow-up of the monk's telephoto killing. An outrage, it was headlined. A desecration of a Buddhist temple that was revolting even to the Europeans of the whole colony. A ruffian gang of Al-Quoles had sealed the walls with bamboo. Indecent, brutally beaten priests who opposed them, and wrenched out three of the silver tiers that held the offerings of the devout. They had been foiled in taking the Emerald Buddha himself only because the police came. Too late, of course, the item concluded cynically, to prevent the senseless vandalism as well as the theft of various images.

"Too late," Alan said bitterly. "To prevent bloody revolution."

"If we should tell the police everything we know about Vrooma," Lucy began.

"What can we prove about Vrooma?" Alan was stumped by the man's cleverness. "We can prove he grins like a cat, period. We can

Senators Not Decided on 'Mac' Report

Washington, Aug. 15 — (AP) — Senators who spent weeks investigating President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur may decide Friday whether to file formal reports.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), who presided at the lengthy hearings, told a reporter he may call the senate armed services and foreign relations committees together for their first session of the matter since the hearings concluded.

The senate inquiry began May 3 and ended June 25. Two "ifs" are involved, Russell explained.

First, he hopes to complete a senate-house conference on agricultural funds before Friday. The Georgian is head of a senate subcommittee on agriculture appropriations.

Second, he wants to be certain that action by the joint foreign relations and armed services committees on the pending $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill will not interfere. Present plans are to suspend senate committee action on that until the house has passed the measure.

Russell does not believe a formal report is necessary because of the wide public attention given to the 2,000,000 word, day-by-day MacArthur hearings.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) and some other Republicans on the investigating group have been pressing for a formal report. Cain claims signatures of several other senators to a tentative version. He has not said who he other seven are.

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) senior GOP member of the armed services group, said in a separate interview he also has a version of a proposed report.

If a formal report is decided upon, three or more different versions are likely.

One would be expected to uphold Mr. Truman's decision in removing MacArthur from all his Pacific commands, while possibly questioning his abrupt method. The general has testified he learned he had been ordered when an associate heard it on a news broadcast.

A third might support MacArthur's proposals or direct attack upon Chinese Communist supply sources, and use of Chinese Nationalist forces now confined to the island of Formosa.

lost their jobs fast. "Okay," he said. "Tell the men we want to surround the camp, and when they hear me shout they can begin to close in. If anybody starts shooting they shoot right back and don't be afraid if they hit white men."

Alan could creep up on a camp as well as any jungle man. In the early darkness he could make out the dark silhouette of the house amongst its trees, quite a big thing on its tall, above-mosquito-height poles it was much larger than any task manager ought to need, more like a mission meeting house in the woods. Beyond it dim domes must be the huts. Alan didn't expect much trouble from the natives. They could stand amazingly well from white man quarrels, unless egged on by white men.

He couldn't see the depression of the creek just behind the house but he could smell it in the hot night air. It could float a leak log and also, apparently, all the sewage from the house. A dog barked furiously. Somebody came out of a hut and rewarded its faithful watch-keeping by throwing a stick of wood at it. It lay away into querulous howlings. Nobody ever expected a raid on so innocent a camp.

Alan waited until the light was just good enough for his own men to see each other. Then he cupped his hands to his mouth and called a long, "Hal-loo! Vroom-oom!"

Howler gibbons woke up in the far trees and shrieked. "Oo-oo-oo!" rising in their register like a strain. Alan heard a heaviness creaking upon the bamboo slats of a veranda. Vroom's voice shouted back from its black shadow.

Other creakings of men getting out of cots sounded. There seemed to be quite a gathering. Alan didn't advance. He yelled again: "It's me, Alan Barton."

He could almost feel the sudden tension in the house. Then Vroom's voice boomed, rather uncertainly: "So you come, men, to visit me, eh?" Stealthily Alan advanced. "Not visit," Alan shouted. "I've come to kill you." And he moved behind a teak trunk.

80,750 U. S. Battle Casualties

Washington, Aug. 15 — (AP) — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 80,750 today, an increase of 320 since last two weeks. This is the lowest weekly increase since the first weekly summary was issued last Aug. 7.

The defense department's weekly summary based on notifications to families through last Friday reported:

Killed in action last week, 11,954, increase 58, new total 12,012.

Wounded last week 50,215, increase 273 new total 6,488.

Missing last week 12,261, decrease 11, new total 12,250.

Totals 80,430.

Battle deaths (s) last week 18,433, increase 69, new total 13,501.

Current missing (s) last week 10,633, increase 18, new total 10,615.

(s) Includes killed in action, 1,366 fatally wounded and 123 dead, originally reported missing.

(s) After deducting from gross total 1,353 returned, 159 known captured and 123 known dead.

Following is a breakdown of the casualties by services:

Army last week 65,725, increase 291, new total 66,016.

Navy last week 332, increase 10, new total 942.

Air force last week 705, increase 3, new total 708.

Marine corps last week 13,080, increase 18, new total 13,092.

Housing for Defense Is Likely to Pass

Washington, Aug. 15 — (AP) — A $1,700,000,000 defense housing bill was tabbed for final approval in the house today. Even Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), who opposed several provisions of the measure, conceded its probable passage.

The administration lost only one significant skirmish after the opening of debate yesterday.

By a shaky three vote margin, subject to possible overturn on a later roll call, Wolcott pushed through an amendment calling for suspension, rather than relaxation, of regulation "X" building credit restrictions in critical housing areas. The tentative vote was 103 to 105.

By the sturdier margin of 127 to 102, the house rejected another Wolcott move to bar the government from constructing permanent-type housing where private enterprise does not produce the number of dwelling units needed.

A third Wolcott amendment, defeated 125 to 122, would have barred the government from operating (but not from constructing) such community facilities as hospitals, waterworks, sewage systems and similar works in areas unable to finance them locally.

Some members of the house said they feared the language of the section would let the government interfere with local operation of schools, even opening up the possibility of delegating their operation to religious groups.

Saying he wished to keep the bill clear of religious controversies, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), manager for the measure, announced he would move to strike out all authority for government construction or operation of schools.

Spence, who is chairman of the banking committee which devel-

Russia Talks Peace, Gets Ready for War

By HOMER JENKS U.P. Staff Correspondent

Russia may be talking peace, but she is preparing for war.

Evidence is piling up that the Soviet Union and her satellites are steadily building their armed strength and setting their internal affairs in order for a showdown with the West on the battlefield.

Here are some recent straws in the wind:

1. — War prisoners only just released after six years of captivity in Russia reported Soviet war factories are operating full blast. They said the Soviet Union "is as ready for war as Germany was in 1939."

2. — Poland and Romania have joined their armed forces and government ranks of suspected Western sympathizers.

3. — Soviet Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov said in a speech in Warsaw that Marshal Tito's Communist but anti-Kremlin government cannot survive much longer.

4. — Incidents along Yugoslavia's border with Soviet-banned Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary have increased to the point where they are almost daily occurrences.

5. — Russia has brought out of supposed retirement its greatest living soldier, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov, hero of Salingrad savior of Moscow and conqueror of Berlin.

When and if war really will explode in Europe only the men in the Kremlin probably know.

Hurricane Is Boiling Off Florida

Miami, Fla., Aug. 15 — (UP) — The weather bureau reported today the first hurricane of the 1951 season with winds of 100 miles per hour boiled up in the Leeward islands some 1,800 miles southeast of Miami.

The hurricane was moving in a northwest or west-northwest direction at about 15 miles per hour. Reconnaissance aircraft from Miami located the storm at 11:30 a. m. latitude 14.7 north and longitude 89.9 west or about 70 miles east of Fort De France, Martinique.

It was the second hurricane of the year but the first of the official tropical storm season of the year. The first hurricane, a freak, was spawned east of the Florida coast and blew itself out in the North Atlantic in early June.

The San Juan, Puerto Rico, weather bureau ordered hurricane warnings hoisted from Martinique to Antigua in the Leeward islands. Storm warnings were displayed for the rest of the Leeward islands.

"All interests take necessary precautions and stand by for the next advisory at 5 p. m. today," the weather bureau said.

Winds were 100 miles per hour near the center and 40 miles per hour in a radius of 60 miles; the weather bureau added.

Major John Andre, British soldier, was captured behind American lines, where he had gone to negotiate an attack on West Point with Benedict Arnold in 1780, and was hanged as a spy in Tappan, N. J.
